

NASWE Quick Guide to Joining the Forum

To join the forum you will need to create the following: -

Component	Record your details...
User Name
Password
E-mail Address

1. The user name could be your first name, nick name, made up name. It must be unique so if you have tried registering on the forum and failed with your first choice User Name you will have to select a new User Name.
2. Password – keep it reasonably simple.
3. Email address you will receive an email from the forum system this will contain a long complex confirmation link – you need to click this link or paste it in to the address bar on your browser.
4. Once you have received and confirmed your email from the forum you are now registered on the forum.
5. If all goes well you can register on the forum in about 3 minutes.
6. As you are registering you will be offered a long form with many variables – Should you want to add more information to your sign-up details you can but do this once you are successfully signed up.
7. If you fail to register correctly using your preferred email address – please contact Charles Willcock by using the Form <http://www.naswe.org.uk/contact/> state the details which you failed to register correctly and I will amend the Forum database to allow you to try re-using the email address.
